

GREG LEWIS

Greg Lewis Born: 1947 (Denver & Aspen, Colorado) A preeminent voice of skiing competitions, Greg Lewis made his mark in a career spanning half a century. In 1972, he joined Bob Beattie's Worldwide Ski Corporation as Head of Communications, quickly becoming the voice of World Pro Skiing, and overseeing NASTAR public relations. Lewis covered Olympic sports and other international events on four continents for NBC, CBS, ESPN, HBO, Turner, and GGP for nearly 30 years. He also wrote and narrated ski films for Jalbert Productions. He is a two-time EMMY honoree and wrote feature profiles for Skiing Magazine. In 2015, ISHA honored him with a Lifetime Achievement Award.

CLASS OF 2024